TRIAL & APPELLATE LAWYERS

Prieto is a former federal prosecutor and trial lawyer who focuses his practice on complex civil litigation, including class actions, and white collar criminal defense. Prieto currently serves as plaintiffs' chair lead counsel overseeing both class actions and personal injury actions in the Takata Airbags Product Liability Multidistrict Litigation, considered the largest product defect case in United States history. He is the only Florida lawyer on the plaintiffs' executive committee in the General Motors LLC Ignition Switch Multidistrict Litigation, and, through his firm, also serves on the plaintiffs' executive committee in the Checking Account Overdraft Multidistrict Litigation, representing bank customers wrongfully charged overdraft fees. Some of Prieto's most significant engagements in his civil litigation practice have involved obtaining $1.2 billion on behalf of drivers impacted by defected airbags, and obtaining settlements of more than over $1 billion on behalf of classes of millions of bank customers who were wrongly charged overdraft fees.
